1. For if Joshua had given them rest, God would not have spoken afterward about a-nother day. And so a Sabbath rest re-mains for the people of God.

For the one who enters God's own rest has al-so rested from works, just as God did too. Thus we must make ev - 'ry ef - fort to enter that rest, so none may fall by fol-low-ing the same pat-tern of dis-o - be-di-ence. Chorus For the word of God is liv-ing and a-ctive and shar-per than a-ny dou-ble-edged sword, pierc-ing e-ven to the point: di - vid-ing soul from spir-it, and the joints from the mar-row; it is a - ble to judge the de-sires and the thoughts of the heart.

2. And no creature is hid den from God, but all is na-ked, ex-posed to him to whom we must give ac-count. For the
